

DR. SCHURMANN MAY LEND AID IN MILITARY HOSPITALS OF GERMANY

Letter From Father Tells Need Country Feels for Men to Care for Wounded

In response to an appeal made in a recent letter from his father in Germany, asking that he devote himself with others to helping in the care of wounded soldiers, Dr. F. H. Schurmann of this city may offer his services for hospital work in the Fatherland.

"I am certainly willing to go," Dr. Schurmann told the Star-Bulletin today, "and if things can be arranged satisfactorily I may answer the call for help."

In his letter Dr. Schurmann's father, who is a retired professor of the Imperial University of Berlin, declares that the three objective points of the German attack are Riga, Verdun and Calais, in the belief that their capture will put the army near enough the several capitals of the entente powers to control the situation. He expresses unbounded faith in the outcome of the great conflict.

A previous letter, to which Professor Schurmann refers in his missive as being unanswered, was published in the Star-Bulletin several weeks ago. The present letter, dated at Cologne, March 8, and received here last Tuesday, is printed in full herewith.

The letter with photograph enclosed, it says in starting, "which I mailed here on January 4, is so far unanswered, and knowing your promptness in responding, I have come to the conclusion that it must have been confiscated by British pirates, as have so many of our previous letters to me."

"Be careful in what you state in them, leave them open, and you will find that they will reach us all right. We greatly deplore the fact that so many links are missing in our chain of correspondence."

"With us, the safe delivery of mail to the United States is less difficult. Letters which have passed our censors are shipped by steamers of neutral countries, and though they may be seized will reach their destination. The idea is that the British do not want any information coming to us."

"Your three brothers are well and in excellent spirits, and none of them has any doubt as to the outcome of the war. Our three objective points are Riga, Verdun and Calais. With these once and for all time in our possession we will be placed near enough to Petrograd, Paris and London to control the situation. This will prevent in the future and for all time further aggressive moves of our present enemies."

Entente Will Collapse.

"Our heroes will soon pierce the French line and thus bring that unfortunate and deluded country to her knees. Once let any of our adversaries get down and the entire entente will collapse."

"We have the greatest compassion for France," continues the letter, "which country ought some time in the future to be one of our allies. There lies her safety and ours against the Russian bear and the rapacious English lion."

"We have no grudge against France or Russia, but we do want to get at Great Britain and take the conceit out of her, thus teaching her a much-needed lesson. However, when once Great Britain will be forced, as a condition of peace, to recognize the freedom of the seas, we will be the first to give her the glad hand. Let us hope it will be accepted and the past buried forever."

Italy Land of Treachery.

"Now I come to Italy—the land of treachery and shame. Public opinion in Austria and Germany demands the severest punishment for her, so that she may never again be able to knife her trusting friends and stab anyone else in the back."

"All of us here now advocate the belief that Italy should be split in twain; the southern part under the present king, and the northern part given a republican form of government as a buffer between. The divided state would once again come under the temporal rule of the pope with Rome as its capital."

Sick Man Convalescent.

"Tripoli is already under Turkish administration, and I do not think it will be long now until the whole northern part of Africa will fall as a result of the war to that gallant old convalescent—the sick man of Europe.

"But enough of this," writes Prof. Schurmann in concluding his letter. "I regret deeply that your children do not speak the German language—your mother tongue."

"By cultivating the German language in your family you would have given us the best proof of deep love for your fatherland, and would have left to your children a priceless treasure."

"German and English are the languages of the world, and it is not yet too late for you to remedy your negligence. You have linguistic ability and natural talent for teaching. Quick to work."

"You have written us so much about your Hermannsdoebne and their doings, and also about the German-American alliance with its efforts toward our righteous cause. The work is no doubt helpful, and we are deeply thankful for it, but what we need right now more than anything else is trained men for our hospitals."

Need Help in Hospitals.

"Your brother Eugene writes from the Dresden military hospital that he has plenty of skilled surgeons but that they lack in trained masseurs and practical orthopaedic physicians whose work would save thousands of soldiers from permanent disability."

"From your description of osteopathy I take it to be a combination of orthopaedia, massage, and Swedish movements, which should be of immense value in the prevention of stiff joints."

"Tens of thousands of our heroes might be given use of their limbs should your organization deem it expedient to send us one or more men trained in those lines."

"Approach its members on the subject, and if there is the true ring of patriotism in them they will send men, of whom I hope you will be the first. Have you a representative of the American Red Cross in Hawaii? If so find out what you can do with him should you fall with the other bodies."

ELKS GATHER TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

In celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the founding of the local organization, members of Honolulu Lodge No. 516, Elks, to the number of about 140, gathered at the Moana hotel last Saturday night for dancing, music and a banquet.

The lodge was organized on April 16, 1901, with 91 charter members. At the anniversary on Saturday, the following survivors of the foundation were present:

Dr. C. B. Cooper, first exalted ruler; W. D. Adams, Lorrin A. Andrews, Harry Armistage, George W. Ashley, A. E. Cunha, G. E. Fisher, P. E. R. Mark Hanna, C. B. High, George A. Martin, Harry E. Murray, P. E. R. Henry P. Roth and W. D. Wilder.

E. A. Donahue acted as toastmaster. During the banquet, which was held in the dining room, several toasts were given and speeches delivered. Raymond C. Brown responded to the toast "The President of the United States."

Dr. Cooper told of the beginning of Elksdom 40 years ago, and of the organization of the Honolulu Lodge. Lorrin Andrews spoke on the "Grand Lodge," and Exalted Ruler Buckley on "Honolulu 516." Following an address by George A. Davis on "Absent Brothers," which brought the banquet to a close, several cabaret numbers were on the program.

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE CARTWRIGHT, JR., are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son yesterday, the newcomer weighing 10 1-4 pounds.

PLAN LECTURES ON TUBERCULOSIS FOR LOCAL "BABY WEEK"

A feature of Honolulu's Baby Week will be a series of lectures at the Palama Settlement on tuberculosis, under the auspices of the anti-tuberculosis bureau of the board of health. Dr. F. E. Steere is chairman of the campaign committee on tuberculosis, and the bureau will have a trained nurse continually in charge of the exhibit. Moving pictures and lectures will be given each evening. English, Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese physicians will lecture, and arrangements will be made for translations into Hawaiian.

Is Life Worth Living?
It Depends Upon the Liver

Wrong living is the cause of most physical ills and generally stomach and liver are first to suffer.

Coffee drinking is a very common cause of digestive disorder, but it usually takes the user some time to fully realize it. Fact is—some people drink coffee with seeming impunity, but when disturbances of the digestive organs result in headache, biliousness, irritability and other common symptoms of caffeine poisoning it's time for the coffee drinker to look to his morning beverage for the true cause.

For any coffee drinker who finds that his health is wrong, but don't know just why, it's a good idea to quit the coffee and use.

POSTUM

Made of wheat and a small amount of molasses, Postum has a rich, snappy flavor much like that of mild Java coffee yet contains no caffeine (the drug in coffee) nor other harmful element.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled: Instant Postum is soluble in boiling water and can be made in the cup at table. Both kinds are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

A change from coffee to Postum is a good move toward right living.
